The IMTC All-Hazards Incident Management Team 0-305 Course

Where Instructional Skill Propels Command Experience to a Higher Level of Learning

IMTC’s AHIMT Training Course (0-305), presents the foundational knowledge of the IMT Planning Process needed for the entire position-specific curricula. The All-Hazards Incident Management Team Course is a primer with some of the nation’s most experienced instructors teaching members of state and regional AHIMTs to better understand their responsibilities and authority within the National Incident Management System (NIMS).

IMTC’s AHIMT Training Course provides AHIMT professionals with crucial insights into highly-successful AHIMT performance. Successful participant-teams leave the course as more cohesive units, an especially valued team characteristic during complex incidents or major events that extend into the second operational period. The IMTC course is designed to give participating teams the knowledge and NIMS-based skill sets required to support an existing ICS structure, assume command of an incident as needed, and simplify the transition to a Type 2 or Type 1 IMT for incidents of national significance, if required.

The Right Stuff

Each IMTC instructor possesses significant Command and General Staff operational experience and is assigned based on the relevance of the instructor’s specific ICS background to each client’s risks and operational situations.

- Unique teaching/training abilities proven through years of AHIMT, EPA, and NWCG course development and team training experience
- Decades of field command level experience
- Extensive AHIMT course delivery knowledge
- Respected national NIMS/ICS/AHIMT backgrounds
- Trusted AHIMT/ICS instructional design credentials

The Right Partner

IMTC, the nation’s most trusted All-Hazards Incident Management Team training provider has been the sole developer and the field-tester of the ICS Position-Specific Courses for the Department of Homeland Security/Federal Emergency Management Agency and the Emergency Management Institute.

- Most experienced 0-305 and Command & General Staff training and mentoring organization
- Most experienced provider to agencies establishing, training, and maintaining Type 3 All-Hazards Incident Management Teams
- Designed, created, and delivered NIMS-based ICS training for the entire EPA
- Trained more incident management team personnel than any other training provider

Together the IMTC AHIMT instructional cadre represents almost a millennium of front-line training experience with 0-305, the other AHIMT courses, and their antecedents, an unmatched combination of knowledge, skill, and understanding that delivers an exceptional learning experience to participants and delivers proven value to their agencies.
